Box Score On High Court

—by—

SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL
"The Gentleman from Indiana"

In the year when Franklin Delano Roosevelt tried to pack the Supreme Court, it was unanimous in 81% of its decisions. The "nine old men" disagreed in 19% of the cases. That was terrible! Didn't they know what the law was?

So a mighty war whoop was emitted from the White House and the hounds of outraged virtue were let loose. Their yelps echoed from coast to coast, and the country was put on the alert to the grave peril it was in. Boobus Americanus, together with at least four men now on the court, as well as Senator Truman, joined in the alarm.

Thinking God they were not as other men, Mr. Roosevelt, Attorney General Cummings, and his Assistant, Mr. Robert Jackson (now one of the Judges) descended upon the Senate Judiciary Committee. The Great White Father, concerned over the impending fate to his children said there was "a persistent and dramatic split among the Justices," and oh, terrible, terrible, "a welter of uncomposed differences" has brought the law, the courts, and indeed the entire administration of justice dangerously near to disarray.

And then, Mr. Robert Jackson, like a brave knight, tilted his shining lance at the "welter" and solemnly and pontifically proclaimed to the shocked and silent throng that: "The judicial house is stubbornly divided against itself!" They "protest publicly and sharply" against each other. But if "their split were decisively resolved by the addition of new members," the Court would then have a "viewpointless divergent" and there would be "greater harmony within the Government."

Well this appealed to that profound legal light, Mr. Harry Hopkins, and he appealed to the poor devils on W. P. A. to rescue the Court. And various other Galahads, Lochinvars, and flowers of chivalry girded themselves with armor and spurred their horses in every direction until a mighty din arose and there was a clash of resounding arms.

The self-appointed defenders of virtue were defeated for a brief moment, but the Man with the Scythe reinforced them and, on a

Six Are Injured in A Crash; Four from Bucks

NEWTOWN, Aug. 2—Two residents of this borough, and four others, were injured in a crash of two cars at Washington Crossing-Pennington Road intersection, N. J., this week.

Four of the victims, according to the report of the officers, were in a parked car. They are Alan J. Slack and Mrs. Earl Grey, aged 38, of this place, and Miss Jane Gilmore, 27, and Mrs. Vera Gilmore, 31, both of Yardley.

Miss Gilmore was admitted to Mercer Hospital, Trenton, where she received treatment for shock. Mr. Slack and the other women also received treatment for lacerations, and later were released from the hospital.

The second car, it is said, was operated by James F. Dave, aged 22, of New Brunswick. He escaped injury; but two women occupants of his car, Mrs. Mary E. Murray, 22, Princeton, N. J., and Miss June Stockton, 19, Lambertville, were treated at Mercer Hospital, Trenton, for cuts.

The victims were taken to the hospital in the ambulance of Washington Crossing First Aid Squad.

SELL-OUT TO RUSSIA

everything she asked—regardless of whom it really belonged to?

There wasn't much more Russia could have gotten in Europe. She has a gun at the head of Italy, in Yugoslavia; and a knife at the life-line of England, in Persia's oil fields. She gets a sizeable chunk of the long-coveted Mediterranean coastline—through the proxy of a satellite nation.

Her recognized "sphere of influence" runs from the Bering Straits opposite Alaska to the middle of pre-war Germany. Really, it goes still farther. She has bluffed England and the U. S. into uncertainty about what they will do if Russia "muscles in" on Spain. France has been involved with Russia to a greater or less degree ever since Franco signed a special treaty with Stalin shortly before the Crimean conference.

As for England, that country now is in the hands of a political party which is committed to "trust and cooperation" with Russia. What that means, putting it brutally, is that not even the Britons' interest in their own self-preservation is to be allowed to interfere with Russian expansion.

All this boils down to the fact that, thanks to the sell-out of the American government, Stalin now is doing by a bluff what a host of military conquerors—Alexander, Caesar, Genghis Khan, Napoleon—tried to do by war: taking over the whole of Europe and Asia.

The meanest piece of pious double-talk uttered thus far was the statement by Secretary Byrnes that he would support any small-nation proposals that got a two-thirds vote of the twenty-one nations attending the conference.

Put in terser and more understandable English, he said "Nuts!" to the protest of the small nations that they had been left out of the pre-parley arrangements, and now were being frozen out of any say-so on the deals of the Big Four.

Byrnes knew perfectly well, when he made this sweet-sounding remark, that it was wholly and fantastically impossible for the "small nations" to get a two-thirds vote in the meeting, no matter how just and persuasive their suggestions might be.

Russia alone controls five votes in addition to her own; they are the votes of her vassal-states, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, the Ukraine, and Byelorussia. These six, plus the United States and Great Britain who are pledged to stand with Russia, make a total of eight votes which are stacked against the small independent nations.

The most these could possibly muster would be thirteen—one less than the two-thirds majority which Secretary Byrnes (tongue in cheek) specified.

One of these days, when the American people fully realize what an outrage against justice has been wrought, largely in Uncle Sam's name, someone will start digging to find out how this all came about. Then, perhaps, there will be answered the question that now can be asked only in vain—is it true that Moscow-controlled Communists have infiltrated our State Department, and were they the ones who turned the trick?

Meanwhile, what sort of existence does the Russian control offer to the war-torn peoples of Europe? The terms are plain enough. The various nations are to be "fined" huge sums as reparations, and then deprived of all the industrial machinery with which these reparations could be paid. Result, "justified" slavery.

As simple as that. This fate already happened to one of the heroic smaller nations, Finland—which defied Hitler when Stalin was preparing to sell out to him for half of Poland. Finland was our friend; she trusted us. Now Finland is a detention camp, exploited to the full by the Russian government.

Insignificant in the daily news reports are mentions of the fact that desperate Finnish youths, willing to run any risk to escape the national San Quentin to which they have been sentenced, are stowing-away on merchant ships and making frantic dashes for escape in the New York harbor.

The handwriting is on the wall now for the rest of Europe's people.

They have the bitter choice of enduring permanent servitude to the Communists, or of starting a Third World War as their sole remaining chance of regaining the freedom we helped take away from them.

NAMEE AND GIBSON TO BATTLE AGAIN HERE

Promotor Moffo has announced that he has succeeded in bringing back Pancho Namee, the battling Panamanian, and Larry Gibson, hard-hitting slugger from Trenton. These boys who fought the semi-windup in the last show are coming back for the windup of eight rounds, on August 5th.

The fans who saw these boys in action last week know what a thrilling battle these youngsters fought with the officials splitting in their decision and Referee Charlie Dugert calling it a draw. The fight devotees won't forget Namee for quite some time and liked the way he came up from off the floor to batter the daylight out of Gibson in the last two rounds.

"Hokey" Leighton, local leather-pusher, is also slated for one of the four-round preliminaries. Leighton is scheduled to trade punches with Ralph Lake, up-coming youngster from Philadelphia. Leighton was stopped in his first bout on the opening card and since then has done some real training to redeem himself.

SPORTSMEN'S
BRIEFS

BY JOE ELBRESON

Fishing contest . . . this Sunday, August 4th, lower Bucks County's biggest open annual fishing contest will be conducted at Silver Lake under the sponsorship of the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association.

Following the procedure established last year, contestants will be competing for prizes in two divisions: first, the Junior Division, which is open to all boys and girls up to 16 years of age; and second, the Adult Division, which is open to anyone possessing a resident Pennsylvania fishing license.

In past years the junior and senior divisions were held on separate dates. By combining them there is no real excuse for dad to leave his children at home!

The same rules will be in effect on Sunday as were used in the 1945 contest. All fish must be caught on hook and line; all fish, except carp, will be eligible for entry; the contest will start at 7 in the morning and continue until 7 in the evening; all fish will be weighed in at the lake at the time they are caught; the heaviest fish in each division will be declared the winning entry; the contest will be under the direct supervision of the Fish Committee, headed by Ollie Hobbs; first prize in each division will be a merchandise order valued at five dollars.

The lake was stocked with a fine load of bass last fall, and anglers have proved thus far this season that there are big ones there. The rest will be up to the contestants on Sunday.

New high . . . the sale of duck stamps set a new record during the period from July 1 to December 31, 1945, when 1,510,462 were sold. This figure represents an increase of 257,002 over the corresponding period in 1944. If the rumor is true that the current season is to be cut to one month perhaps the sale will decrease this year.

Last trip, fished the Panpuck Creek last weekend for the last try at trout in the Poconos this season.

Four of us, Charlie Boyd, Johnny Johnson, Ralph Ratcliffe and I made the trip. We were all agreed that the Poconos are beautiful this time of the year, but we brought only our trout home to prove we had been fishing. Two of the four were 12-inch brownies and the other two were small rainbows. Ralph hooked into a big one but while he was trying to get his landing net untangled the fish got away. The creek was full of chubs and the four of us caught at least fifty of them. We also caught two smallmouth bass.

Notice to G.I.'s . . . Ex-G.I.'s who did not possess a free hunting license during 1945 before they were discharged, will be required to purchase one if they want to hunt groundhogs, the season for which opened June 1. This also applies when hunting for any wild animals or wild birds, whether protected or not.

Pennsylvania residents still in the armed forces, and servicemen and women from other states if officially stationed within Pennsylvania thirty days or more, are still entitled to a free license. These licenses can be secured only from County Treasurers and are valid to August 31, 1946.

Service men who have been discharged since they secured their free 1945 license may continue to use such license until date of expiration, August 31, 1946. After that date they shall be required to purchase a 1946 license, which will be valid from September 1, 1946 to August 31, 1947. (from the July issue of the Pennsylvania Game News).

They're still there . . . in spite of all reports to the contrary there are plenty of fish in the bays. This was demonstrated Tuesday when attorney J. Leslie Kilcoyne and his wife fished at Tuckerton.

The catch included 23 weakfish, two white perch and a flounder. One of the weakies weighed three pounds.

The localites chummed with shrimp and fished the top, part of the time with corks and part with a dead line.

And here's the payoff: to catch 26 fish is a feat in itself, but to catch them on No. 30 cotton sewing thread is remarkable. Said lawyer Kilcoyne, "There are plenty of fish there . . . we lost as many as we caught."

FINAL SCORE IS 8 TO 2

Phila. Bob-Cats Swung At Ball But Could Not Connect

It was all "Joe" Berry last night under the lights on the high school field as the Croydon Vets beat the Philadelphia Bob-Cats, 8-2, in the second game of the season.

Berry went in to relieve Earl Wagner in the first inning and what a hurling exhibition the Burlington youngster put up. He fanned sixteen batters and gave up two measly hits. His fast ball had several of the Bob-Cats swinging after the ball was in the catcher's glove. Of the two men that hit safely, both were caught off first base. Berry allowed but one-runner to reach as far as second base.

Wagner who started on the hill for the Vets was entirely too wild as he allowed a hit and then walked four batters in succession to force in two runs and give the visitors a 2-0 lead.
